

CATALOG SEARCH AGENT

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

[0037] A computer-based system that provides services for searching and displaying catalog items. The system enables a user to pass a request to one or more catalog servers and display aggregated results in a user interface. Furthermore, the system enables the user to select one or more items from the user interface and transfer the one or more items to a procurement system for additional processing.

10322426.doc